

Alan Armijo

Alan Armijo, CEO of Armijo Enterprises, Inc. dba Tech International has over 20 years of experience in Information Technology, International Business, Business Development, Marketing, Project Management, Planning, Product Support and Quality Control.

Mr. Armijo's effective management skills result from his experience in both supervisory and technical areas in the information technology (IT) and international trade industries. Currently, Mr. Armijo is managing business development, IT consulting and web site technology integration to his clients in the United States.

Before launching Tech International , Mr. Armijo was Director of IT Recruitment and Placement and Business Development for a Huntington Beach IT Placement firm. Mr. Armijo also helped develop and make operational the Export System at Mattel, Inc and assisted in developing the Automated Export System with US Customs. Mr. Armijo has been a key player in project management with Import and Export technological systems that assist international trade companies to streamline their trade and shipping operations.

Mr. Armijo also served as operations manager for Abert Trading Inc., a New York, NY buying office and exporter of clothing and textiles.

Mr. Armijo is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame.